

Alejandro (Alec) Oxenford is a serial internet entrepreneur and contemporary art enthusiast.

Alec co-founded “letgo” (2015-present), the fastest growing app to buy and sell locally in the United States. It is based in New York and Barcelona and has had over 75M downloads. Alec also co-founded, and is the chairman of, OLX.com (2006-present). With over 200 million monthly unique users, OLX is the #1 online classifieds player in Brazil, India. Prior to OLX, in 1999, Alec co-founded DeRemate.com and Dineromail.com (2003).

In addition, Alec is a President of the arteBA Foundation in Buenos Aires since 2014. He is currently building an argentine contemporary art collection (the Oxenford Collection) which now has over 300 pieces. Alec is also a member of the Consulting Counsel for ArtBasel Cities, representing Buenos Aires.

Alec is an MBA graduate with honors from Harvard Business School (1997) and was elected Young Global Leader by the World Economic Forum (2006-2011). His Instagram: “alecoxenford”, and Twitter account: @alejandrito.